

Attend the Church of Your Faith Regularly

PLENTY

"Be Thankful for Plenty" was the title of a sermon we heard many years ago. And we'll never forget how the preacher defined "plenty."

"If you have everything that money can buy, all the necessities and all the luxuries of life—and you don't have a Bible you can read and understand—then you've nothing to be thankful for! You're in want!"

"But if God has given you just enough of this world's goods for you to live from day to day—and you've a Bible you turn to every day—then be thankful! You have plenty!"

We can cherish that homely bit of inspiration. It sums up the kind of Thanksgiving our forefathers believed in . . . the kind of Thanksgiving that millions of us will celebrate this week in Church!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It's a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SYMBOL OF HOPE — Ambrose Salmini, of Yonkers, N. Y., demonstrates the winning symbol of the $1800 contest he started among West Germans for a symbol that will mean "hope" to people enslaved by the Communists. About 20 per cent of the entries came from the Soviet zone, with entrants using West German return addresses. The winning symbol, selected from 2500 entries, is a simple drawing that transforms the Soviet emblem into the Christian cross in two sketches. The first shows the sickle flattening itself out in a straight line and the hammer becoming the crossbar. The second drawing shows the completed cross. It was submitted by a German whose initials are "H.J.S." but Salmini said he would have to find out if he wanted his name used. Many specified that their names were not to be disclosed.

Mr. Truman's Course of Action Was Certainly Unwise

Developments in the Harry Dexter White case suggest the folly of resting argument on political, rather than factual foundations. For since it exploded Nov. 6, both Attorney General Brownell and former President Truman have been compelled to shift their ground to compensate for political overstatement. Neither emerges unscathed.

In the latest phase, Mr. Truman, answering Brownell's charges, said he decided to let White stay with the government in 1946 so the FBI could continue to investigate him and other alleged spies and build up a foolproof case.

He said that in consultation with Secretary of State Byrnes, Secretary of the Treasury Vinson and Attorney General Clark in February, 1946, he determined that this course would protect the public interest and security as well as allow the FBI to press its inquiry fruitfully.

"No other course could have served both these ends," he stated.

In rebuttal against him, the key witness before the Jenner committee in the senate proved to be not Brownell, but J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI. What he said threw into question the wisdom, though not the essential truth, of what Mr. Truman said he decided.

This was the heart of Hoover's statement:

1. The FBI did not in this case, and does not in any case, recommend that a suspected spy be kept in government so he may be further observed. It was not a party to any agreement to this effect, as some people implied.

2. Had it been the FBI's intention to handle the White case as an "intelligence operation," in other words to keep him under continued surveillance, the FBI would not have distributed widely through government agencies its findings on White and other suspects. This increased prospects of a leak that would alert the suspects, the very thing Mr. Truman implied he was trying to prevent by keeping White on.

3. Thus, Hoover made plain his belief that the White case was ended, not continuing, when he sent the former president a detailed report on him Feb. 4, 1946, two days before the senate confirmed him as U. S. representative on the International Monetary Fund. He had told Clark and Vinson he believed it unwise for White to remain in government.

In support of this point, he cited many instances in 1946 when, as soon as evidence of serious nature was compiled against a man, he was separated from federal service. Unhappily, this did not include many key figures.

4. Far from serving the FBI's aims, keeping White on made its job of surveillance more difficult, since the fund's premises, like the UN's, are "extraterritorial," and hence "off limits" to the FBI.

5. In deciding White should stay and be kept under watch, Mr. Truman declared his intention to surround him with "safe security risks." But White nevertheless was allowed thereafter to name two other key suspects to jobs on the fund. Brownell supported Hoover here by saying he could discover no evidence to show White and others were interfered with in continuing to supply government secrets to the Soviet Union.

In the light of this testimony, any citizen may have strong doubts of Mr. Truman's statement that retaining White was the "only course" consistent with national security and FBI desires. Indeed, one is led to consider that what Mr. Truman did may have been the very poorest course he could have followed.

Gerber Convention Used to Advantage

By OSWALD JACOBY

Some of my correspondents have asked me for a hand illustrating the Gerber Convention. I give them today's hand, in which I held the South in the recent individual tournament in Houston. My partner, Capt. L. A. Welsh, of the U. S. coast guard, used the Gerber Convention skillfully and put me in a strange slam contract. It was odd to play the hand at six spades without a trump in my hand.

Captain Welsh's jump to four clubs was a special slam convention, named after Johnny Gerber of Houston. Such a jump to four clubs does not promise a club suit; it merely asks partner to show how many aces he holds, very much like the Blackwood bid of four no-trump.

In responding to a Gerber bid of four clubs, you show no aces by bidding four diamonds; one ace, by know that all four aces were accounted for after South's response of four spades. North would then bid four no-trump, the cheapest bid after four spades. South would be able to show no kings with a bid of five clubs; one king, with five diamonds, and so on.

When today's hand was actually played in the tournament, most tables got to six spades, played from the North position. The opening lead of the queen of clubs defeated them very quickly. At my table, the slam was played from the South position. If West had opened a club, my king would have stopped the suit in time. West actually opened a diamond, and it was a cinch to win the first trick, ruff a low diamond in dummy, draw trumps and then take the rest.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass
2 Hearts Pass

You, South, hold: Spades K-J-7-3-2, Hearts 8-5, Diamonds K-J-6, Clubs A-10-7. What do you do?

A—Bid two no-trump. With 12 points in high cards opposite an opening bid you must invite a game without actually demanding it. This particular invitation shows your balanced distribution and scattered strength.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-7-3-2, Hearts 8-5, Diamonds A-J-9, Clubs A-Q-7. What do you do?

Answer Tomorrow

What's Right?

There are some things women of charm just don't discuss with her friends. In this classification are: her husband's income, her mother-in-law's faults, family squabbles, or how much she contributes to the family income.

Private business is kept private by women of charm and graciousness.

CIRCUS TALK

Circus folk have a language all their own. To them, camels are humps, elephants are bulls, monkeys are old folk, hippos are hogs, hyenas are gravediggers, and ostriches are big turkeys. People who take in all the sights, but never buy tickets, are loaves to them.

Women's Grips About Men And Husbands Get an Airing

On second thought:

Why SHOULD a man keep on trying to impress you once you have convinced him that you think he's wonderful?

Isn't it just as important for a wife to build up her own ego by seeing to it that her husband knows he is a lucky man as it is for her to build up his ego by letting him know she thinks she is a lucky woman?

Should a man blame his wife for not having "kept up" with him if, through the years, he never bothered to offer her his arm when he saw she was having a hard time trying to keep in step with his longer stride?

Why should a woman pretend she is younger than she is when, if she were honest about her age, she might get credit for looking younger than her years—a real accomplishment?

ADVISERS TAKE ONE-WAY STREET

Why don't the experts who advise women how important it is for them to look their prettiest when their husbands come home from work also advise the husbands that a wife who has taken pains to look pretty should be rewarded with a real kiss—not a husbandly peck?

Could this be the reason men so often let women have the last word in an argument? Once it is quite plain that a woman is voicing her own opinion instead of applauding him, a man's mind automatically shuts out her words, anyway?

Is it possible to look at a display of men's neckties without wondering how men have the nerve to laugh at women's hats?

Wouldn't marriage be a lot easier for women if a man were as ner met Goodman Ace, the TV and radio writer, and waited that such a heavy work schedule would leave him time for little else and might even cost him his happy home.

How, Ed wondered, was Goodman able to keep up his strenuous writing schedule for NBC and still keep the home fires burning.

"It's rather simple," yawned Goodman. "I get home every night at 6 o'clock. We have dinner, play cards or look at TV and get to bed early. Then, as soon as I hear Mrs. Goodman snoring, I get dressed, rush back to NBC and write jokes all night."

Q—Does the Suez Canal have locks?

A—No, because there is no great difference between the levels of the Red Sea and the Mediterranean Sea.

The Doctor Says: Avoiding Contacts Is Best Preventive for Common Cold

By EDWIN P. JORDON, M. D.

Millions of dollars are spent every year for remedies aimed at curing or warding off that miserable affliction known as the common cold. Nose drops, vitamins, and drugs of many varieties are purchased by the thousands, and nearly every one of us has a favorite cure.

The fact that so many remedies are on the market is the best reason to say that nothing is much good in warding off or curing this vicious ailment.

The time may come when something better will be available, but the fact that nearly every year some new wonder cure is announced indicates that we should view new remedies with skepticism.

Does this mean that nothing at all can be done about the common cold? In this matter we are our brother's keeper. Most colds develop after contact with someone who already has one.

The most important safety measure is to avoid exposure to those who already have colds, especially when a cold is just starting.

Public places, streetcars and moving-picture theaters, almost always have one or two people in them who are coming down with or recovering from a cold. If we kept out of these places when colds were frequent there would almost certainly be fewer attacks. But the person who has a cold could help most by not exposing others needlessly.

WORD ABOUT DRAFTS

Although most colds seem to be definitely spread by contact, a word must be said about the traditional risk of catching cold following chillsings, drafts, or wet feet. Probably chilling alone does not produce a cold. But if some people get wet feet or sit in a draft they are much more likely to come down with a cold. Probably the reason is some temporary drop in resistance.

If a cold does start the safest thing to do is to go to bed at once and stay there until the symptoms are gone.

NEW YORK—Bearing in mind the revelation of Harry Truman's intellectual and political subordination to Max Lowenthal which was published by Jonathan Daniels in "Man of Independence," we may better understand Truman's attitude toward Communists by reading excerpts from the records of Congress and the press.

"Man of Independence" is a friendly biography by the editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, who seems not to have had an ordinary cub's curiosity about the meaning of facts which he came upon in a strange experience. He served Truman as one of his "selfless secretaries."

Daniels tells us that Lowenthal first selected Truman to be vice-president and that Truman, with his characteristic indecency, used a familiar gutter bromide to describe the poverty which deterred him from considering the proposition. Truman then was a senator doing most of the work of a sub-committee investigating railroads. Lowenthal was counsel. Daniels plainly depicts Truman as a lesser and subordinate personality who was cleverly taken over.

With this background, let us read excerpts from George Sokolsky's column of last May 8, as follows:

"Max Lowenthal was one of Harry Truman's closest advisers. . . . 'Now Lowenthal's name is coming up and witnesses before Congressional committees have taken the position that to know Lowenthal would incriminate them.'

"Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, who has been identified as the head of the Silvermaster cell of Communist spies in our government" was questioned about Lowenthal as follows:

"Mr. Morris (examining): 'Do you know a man named Max Lowenthal?'

"Mr. Silvermaster: 'I refuse to answer under the same privilege.' (Fifth Amendment).

"Did you ever have conversations with Lowenthal?'

Same answer. Now Sokolsky writes, "We came to Frederick Palmer Weber . . . who testified as follows:

"Mr. Morris: 'Were you a member of the Communist party when you were organizing those 11 (Southern) states for the Progressive (Henry Wallace) party (in 1948)?'

"Mr. Weber: 'I plead my privilege. Mr. Counsel.'

"So he was asked about Max Lowenthal.

"Mr. Morris: 'I am going to ask you some questions about Max Lowenthal. He has been an adviser to the executive branch of the government. When did you last see Mr. Lowenthal?'

He said he would "plead his privilege" about all other questions relating to Lowenthal.

And when Senator Herman Welker, of Idaho, asked whether he was merely trying to save Lowenthal from embarrassment or actually thought he might expose himself to criminal charges by admitting that he even knew the man, he made it absolutely clear. Weber declined "under my privilege."

Sokolsky then remarked: "This is a startling reply. He is reluctant to speak of some, but to speak of Lowenthal would incriminate him. Why? What has Lowenthal done that it would incriminate Silvermaster and Weber to have known him?"

Next let us weigh a paragraph by Victor Riesel, a pro-unionist but anti-Communist pundit of the package-goods trade.

On March 31, 1952, Riesel wrote: "It all started for Harry S. Truman in a Chicago pent-house suite some eight years ago. He had come because Sidney Hillman . . . had sent word he'd like to see the Missouri senator. What was said then has been an off the record 'secret.' . . . Unbeknown to Truman or Hillman, the conversation had been recorded by a couple of fellows who may yet be arrested for their services to the Soviet Union. Truman positively knew none but Hillman who told him the CIO's first choice for vice-president was Wallace. But failing that, CIO would swing to Truman to beat Byrnes. But of course, Hillman said, naturally the CIO wanted a friend. The senator gave his word. As vice-president and president, he never broke it. And for years, an intimate friend of Hillman's by name of Max Lowenthal, has given the president advice and guidance on many of his most vital decisions.

Mr. Lowenthal's role is under-emphasized here. He has developed such influence over Mr. Truman that the president's advisers have had to establish a methodical surveillance system to make certain that national policies were not reversed and high officials fired because of Mr. Lowenthal's political whims."

Congressman George Dondero, of Michigan, as reported in the Congressional Record of Sept. 1, 1950, spoke as follows:

"I want to discuss a man of mystery and for the first time take off the mask behind which he has been hiding for years . . . He works through others. He has reached pinnacles of great power. Today I bring into the open and introduce Max Lowenthal."

Dondero recorded the many influential jobs which Lowenthal held, dating from 1917, and said: "By pulling strings he acquired the title of adviser on disposal of Jewish property to General Clay, in Germany. He had as an assistant George Shaw Wheeler, the American traitor, Communist and renegade who denounced the land of his birth and asked Communist-controlled Czechoslovakia for asylum. The usually accurate 'Human Events' for Sept. 25, 1946, reported, 'It may be coincidence but since Lowenthal's appointment, General Clay has permitted leaders of the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Workers' Party to address meetings in the American zone.'

"David R. Wahl was a protégé of Lowenthal in the foreign economic administration. The files of the Civil Service Commission and the Committee on Un-American Activities reveal him as one whose loyalty has been questioned and one with powerful forces who came to his aid."

In his own appearance before the House committee, Lowenthal said he hardly knew Wheeler and, with the artistic intrusion of ex-Senator Burt Wheeler, of Montana, acting as his counsel, managed to duck all questions about Wahl. He did say that certain "groups" had desired his mission to help General Clay in Germany but, with Wheeler running interference and breaking up the committee's plays, Lowenthal left the stand without naming those "groups."

fore and we plan to do it in this case."

Hall and Mrs. Heady will be seated in the gas chamber on two metal chairs about three feet apart. Under the chairs are stone crocks containing sulphuric acid. When the prisoners are strapped into place, a lever is tripped, causing cyanide to drop into the acid and producing a deadly gas.

"The gas renders them unconscious within a matter of seconds," the official said.

Deaf to Marry

Mrs. Heady, a divorcee, has expressed a desire to marry Hall before their execution, court officials said. Hall, who also was married and divorced, has not indicated a similar desire, the officials reported.

The director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons would have to give permission for such a marriage.

There was small chance of an appeal. Roy Dietrich, court-appointed attorney for Hall, said he saw nothing to warrant appealing the decision of U. S. District Judge Albert L. Reeves.

Seemed Relieved

The 34-year-old playboy and his 41-year-old alcoholic mistress watched dry-eyed as the tragic case drew to a dramatic close on the fourth day of the trial.

They seemed relieved as they were hustled out of the courtroom, handcuffed to waist chains and closely guarded by U. S. deputy marshals on their way back to their separate cells.

Mrs. Heady will be the first woman to die in the Missouri gas chamber. The 30 men who have been executed there have been stripped to the shorts to lessen the possibility of gas clinging to their clothing. Arrangements have been made for Mrs. Heady to be clad in long black shorts and a black halter. She will be blindfolded, as will Hall.

One Hold-Out

After the jury retired for its deliberations, a death recommendation for Hall was decided on immediately. However, one juror held out for life imprisonment for Mrs. Heady. It was learned last night. He finally agreed on the death penalty for her also after an hour's persuasion.

The jury was out only 68 minutes.

Both Hall and Mrs. Heady, the once-respectable housewife who took to drink, pleaded guilty at their arraignment Nov. 3. The federal jury was called because without a recommendation of death from it the 79-year-old judge at most could have assessed only life terms against the two under the Lindbergh Kidnap Act.

GE Fires 2 Named As Reds

BOSTON (U) — The General Electric Co. has suspended two employees who were named as Communists by an FBI undercover agent at a stormy hearing of Ben. Joseph R. McCarthy's red-hunting committee.

Taken abruptly off the GE payroll Thursday night were Robert Goodwin and Nathaniel Mills, 36, both long-time employees of the GE plant in Lynn.

They were pointed out as card-carrying Communists Thursday by William H. Telo, 43, of Ashby, who said he joined the Communist party in 1941 at the request of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Goodwin and Mills nearly precipitated a riot in the hearing room when they fought ejection after refusing to take the stand to deny or affirm the accusation against them.

Shortly after their suspension from the GE, Essex County Dist. Atty. Hugh A. Clegg announced he plans to launch an investigation against Goodwin and Mills with a view toward criminal action.

Both men were pointed out by Telo as having had access to critical products GE makes for the armed services.

Gejoriel Kantrovitz, attorney for both men, who also was thrown out of the hearing room when he spoke in behalf of his clients while another person was testifying, said his clients "testified in secret session that they are patriotic citizens and have been guilty of no misconduct at General Electric or elsewhere."

Telo testified he knows of Red cells in General Electric plants in Lynn, Fitchburg, Everett and Schenectady, N. Y.

31 Stranded In Colorado Snowstorms

DENVER (U) — Two cross-country buses with a total of 31 passengers aboard were stranded in eastern Colorado Friday as howling winds whipped powdery snow into seven and eight foot drifts.

All passengers were reported safe. No fresh snow was falling. A Trailways System bus with 14 persons aboard, Denver - bound from Kansas City, stalled in a ground blizzard west of Joes, Colo., on U. S. Highway 36. A snowplow sent to free the vehicle also became stuck within half a mile of the small town, 128 miles east of Denver and about 40 miles from the Kansas line.

The bus was later reported bucking the drifts and had traveled within a quarter mile of Joes.

A second Trailways bus with 17 passengers aboard, eastbound from Denver to St. Louis, ran off the highway into a snowbank just west of Joes as the driver, H. V. Hodges, attempted to pass an automobile stalled in the middle of the road.

A snowplow freed Hodges' bus after two hours and his passengers settled down in a Joes cafe to wait for plows to reopen the highway.

Trailways canceled all its scheduled runs over U. S. 36.

There was 6 inches of snow on the ground around Joes and the wind had piled up drifts 7 and 8 feet deep.

The Weather Bureau said snow had stopped falling after a day-old storm throughout Colorado and Wyoming, but winds of 25 to 30 miles an hour were blowing over most of eastern Colorado.

Subfreezing temperatures nipped both states early today in the wake of the storm, which left a foot and a half of snow in some mountain areas.

The Rocky Mountain region braced, meanwhile, for a fresh snow promised as another cold front approached from the Pacific Northwest.

Haze Clouds Most of East

NEW YORK (U) — Heavy haze, laden in some areas with industrial chemical fumes, hung over the seaboard from New England to Virginia today.

In industrial New Jersey and in New York City itself the atmospheric conditions caused numerous cases of eye, nose and throat irritation. Several minor highway accidents were blamed on the haze.

Two More Pay Traffic Fines

Arthur Morris, 64, of 507 Depot av., was fined $10 and costs Thursday after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding on Brinton avenue.

Morris was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lawrence Boos, Dixon, following his arrest by Dixon Police Officer G. D. Camery.

Edgar Coleman, Monroe av., was also fined for speeding on Brinton avenue following his arrest by Sgt. B. R. Lorenzen and Officer Camery.

Iowan Sues Estate of Crash Victim

A $1,000 damage suit was filed Thursday in the office of John Shaulis, circuit court clerk, on a charge of venue from DeKalb county circuit court, in which an Iowa farmer is suing for the loss of cattle in a motor vehicle collision on Nov. 9, 1952.

Henry Winterboer, Everly, Ia., brought the suit against Walter Stevens, attorney, Pawpaw, administrator of the estate of the late Stanley Keith Slover, Pawpaw, who was killed, with his wife, in the accident.

The case was taken from the DeKalb circuit court to Lee county after it was determined the accident occurred in Lee county and not in DeKalb county.

Winterboer charged that his cattle was killed en route to Chicago via trucks operated by the Gibson Truck line, that Slover caused the accident on Rt. 30, about 5 1/2 miles east of the intersection of Rts. 30 and 51.

The plaintiff said Slover drove on the wrong side of the road, causing one of two trucks, carrying the cattle, to leave the road, and running head on into the other.

Winterboer requests a judgment of $1,000 for the loss of cattle in the mishap.

Mightiest chasm in the world was cut by the Colorado River, a mile deep.

Reuther Reelected CIO Head

CLEVELAND (U) — Walter P. Reuther was elected without opposition today to his second term as CIO president. He was elected by acclamation.

Reuther, the 46-year-old United Auto Workers unionist, had to engage in a bitter showdown fight for the office only a year ago after the death of President Philip Murray.

Executive Vice President John V. Riffe, Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey and eight vice presidents also were assured of reelection without a contest.

The elections wound up the five-day convention.

'Cushion' Helps As Woman falls 13 Floors, Lives

PHILADELPHIA (U) — Her excess weight may have helped save the life of a 45-year-old woman who fell 13 stories from a hotel window, Jefferson Hospital physicians say, that, plus the facts that a skylight broke her fall and she landed in a sitting position.

Staff doctors said Mrs. Betty Green Kaskin's plumpness cushioned the shock. And while in a sitting position, they explained, the body is best able to diffuse shock.

The woman, who is reported recovering from the fall Nov. 13, suffered a number of cracked vertebrae, broken ribs, a torn kidney and compound fractures of the right leg.

Grass Fire
Dixon firemen extinguished a grass and leaves fire Thursday night in a lot adjacent to 224 N. Galena av.

According to Fire Chief Gail Keyser, the fire apparently started from sparks from an incinerator. There was no damage.

A well drilled by J. N. Hockman of Salem is flowing oil at the rate of 100 barrels an hour. Oil sources say production in the first 44 hours of operation totaled 4,400 barrels.

The well is producing from the Rosiclar formation at a depth of about 3,000 feet. It is in an established oil field but offsets an abandoned dry hole.

Reds Owe Taxes on Mansions

EAST NORWICH, N. Y. (U) — The Russians are in the red on taxes for two mansions they own on Long Island—one of them occupied by Andrei Vishinsky.

An estate here, "Norwich House," has been put on notice for public sale Dec. 7, unless a Nassau county tax bill of $2,916, five months in arrears, is paid.

The other estate, "Killenworth," at Glen Cove, has been put on notice for public sale for a $2,396 tax delinquency.

The Soviet first deputy foreign minister and permanent delegate to the United Nations occupies Killenworth with his wife, daughter and staff. Various Russian staff members and children live at Norwich House.

The Russians have had tax delinquencies previously on Killenworth. They contended they were entitled to a diplomatic tax exemption, but eventually paid the taxes.

YOU
LOWEST BIDDER
By JOHN RUSKIN

It's unwise to pay too much, but it's worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money — that is all. When you pay too little, you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do. The common law of business balance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot — it can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run. And if you do that, you will have enough to pay for something better.

IAA Approves Flexible Props

Three Other States Okay 90% Price Supports

CHICAGO — (U) — Twenty four resolutions were passed at the closing meeting of the four-day 39th annual convention of the Illinois Agricultural Assn. Thursday.

Most extensive debate was in connection with the production adjustments and price supports resolution. There were nearly a dozen unsuccessful attempts to amend it.

Flexible price supports for corn in 1955 and for non-basic commodities now and production by soil conservation approach instead of specific acreage allotments, were recommended by provisions of the resolution.

Revise Voting

Marketing quota elections were recommended to be based on 50 per cent or higher participation of eligible producers instead of no minimum as at present. An existing requirement for a two-thirds majority of those voting would remain in effect, in the sense of the resolution.

The resolution also sought raising the alternative support of 50 per cent of parity to a minimum of 75 per cent in case such a quota referendum fails of passage.

The association's 14 delegates will be sent to the parent American Farm Bureau Federation's convention in Chicago, next month committed to flexible price supports. In contrast, Tennessee, North Dakota and Kentucky voted Wednesday in favor of 90 per cent of parity price supports.

Discontinuance of federal payments for individual soil maintenance and improvement practices were also voted.

Other Action

Other action of the convention voted for expansion of agricultural research and extension; for greater exchange of American and foreign goods and services; for "strengthening" the Taft-Hartley (labor-management relations) law, and for improving grading requirements on soybeans, eggs, hogs and milk.

Opposition to extending the Old Age and Survivors' provisions of the Social Security Act to include farmers was reaffirmed by the group. They also reaffirmed opposition to Universal Military Training.

A motion to increase the Association's annual dues from the present $5 to $7 effective Oct. 1, 1954, was tabled.

The group approved a motion to extend for another five years a program of help for medical students who intend to set up practice in rural communities.

Lodge Under Police Guard In NY Hotel

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (U) — The armed police guard on U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's Waldorf Astoria hotel suite reportedly is there to protect him from Puerto Rican nationalists.

An informed source, who asked that his name not be used, said Thursday night that Lodge himself had requested the 24-hour guard about 10 days ago. The source could not say whether Lodge had received any actual threats.

The New York Daily News reported, without confirmation, that other American officials also had been given police guards but did not identify them.

The Daily News said the Puerto Rican extremists, a small but bitter group, are incensed because the U.S. delegation refused to let a nationalist spokesman argue for Puerto Rican independence before the U.N.

The Puerto Ricans failed three years ago in an attempt to assassinate President Truman in Washington.

Not until 1961 will there be another February without a full moon. Last time this was true was in 1934, prior to that 1915 and 1866.

Slavs to Vote 1-Way Ballot Next Sunday

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U) — Communist-dominated Yugoslavia elects a new "Narodna Skupstina" — its People's Parliament — Sunday. The ballot will be secret but rigid rules make the election a one-party primary and assure President Tito's administration a whopping vote of confidence.

The constitution bans anti-government candidates and restricts office-seekers to members of Tito's "Socialist Alliance of the Working Peoples." It does permit alliance members to contest for individual seats.

A vote can mark out all candidates to show disapproval.

The bitter feud between Yugoslavia and Italy over future control of the Trieste territory has served to strengthen Tito's position by largely obscuring such domestic problems as widespread discontent over inadequate housing, church-state differences and peasant farming.

The voters will choose 353 members to the Federal Council, roughly comparable to the U.S. House of Representatives. There are only a score more candidates than seats available.

The 202 members of Parliament's second house, the Council of Producers, are being elected separately by workers "directly engaged in production." These include those in state enterprises turning out textiles and machinery and farmers who are members of state collectives.

Fewer Injuries Among Top 10

Only Texas, Spartans Are Exceptions

Coaches Scoff at Criticism From Virginia Doctor

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's top 10 football teams generally have suffered fewer injuries with the one-platoon system than they did in the old free substitution days, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Only Michigan State and Texas are exceptions.

Earlier this week a University of Virginia doctor, Charles J. Frankel, blamed the return of the one-platoon system for an "alarming" 30 per cent increase in injuries to players on Virginia's football squad.

75 Per Cent Less

He said there has been a similar upswing at colleges he has checked and added that the injuries have been more severe than in the days of unlimited substitutions.

Notre Dame, the No. 1 team in the nation, has had fewer injuries to a 75 per cent reduction of contact work in practice.

Assistant coach Bill Earley said, "All things being equal, both teams are tired late in the game and thus they may not hurt each other."

Duke Wyre, trainer of Maryland which is ranked second, said, "Our injuries have not increased and overall they have been very small."

Fewer for Illinois

Michigan State has had more injuries and Coach Biggie Munn still favors the return to free substitution. Trainer Jack Heppinstall observed that freshmen especially, coming in as two-platoon players, get hurt trying to learn both-way football.

Illinois has had fewer injuries than a year ago. Coach Ray Eliot says, "The danger of the one-platoon system is that you must play your talented men 50 or more minutes. When I pulled J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates near the close of the Wisconsin game, they were near complete exhaustion."

Scott at Report

Wisconsin also has had less injuries than last season. Coach Ivy Williamson said, "We were afraid one-platoon football might cause considerable injury, but experience hasn't proved it to be so."

Southern California trainer Kearney Reeb and UCLA trainer Duck Drake both scoffed at Dr. Frankel's report.

Said Reeb: "Where we had 10 injuries a season under the two-platoon system, we have had just one this year. The actual loss of manpower is far less under the single platoon."

Always Warm

Drake said UCLA players are "all for the single platoon" and the reason they suffer less injuries is because they "are warm all the time instead of going in the game cold."

Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma said, "I can't see that the one platoon system has made any difference in the number of injuries."

Football injuries took a big jump at Texas this season with nine regular and second-stringers sidelined for several games. During 1952 only one player missed more than one game.

Roy Campanella Wins MVP Award

TRACK CHAMPS—Trainer Robert "Red" McDaniel (left) and Jockey Willie Shoemaker are setting new win marks in turf record books. McDaniel (Nov. 18) became the new world champion conditioner of thoroughbreds when his mount, Mithra, won the ninth race at California's Bay Meadows for his 185th win of the year. Shoemaker, already far past the previous victory mark for jockeys, boosted his 1953 total to 445 at Bay Meadows. 140 of these wins were on McDaniel-trained horses. (AP wirephoto)

Wins Honor 2nd Time On Birthday

Baseball Writers Make Selection; Mathews Second

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Campanella's den in St. Alban's, N. Y., soon will have a second Most Valuable Player plaque hanging on the wall.

The 1953 National League award came on his 32nd birthday Thursday and the Brooklyn catcher said, "Makes a man feel pretty good. It sure was a nice birthday present."

Campanella was an overwhelming choice with 17 of the 24 first-place votes by the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America. The men, three from each league city, each vote for 10 merit and points are awarded on a 12-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.

Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews, league leader with 47 home runs, was a solid second with 216 points to Campanella's 297.

Duke Snider, Brooklyn's center fielder, was third with 157, followed by St. Louis' Red Schoendienst, 155; Warren Spahn, Milwaukee, 120; and Robin Roberts, Phillies' 23-game winning ace, 108.

Iowa Teachers Back Leads in Total Offense

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Capitani, 150-pound fullback of Iowa State Teachers, is the small-college football total offense leader for 1953.

NCAA Service Bureau figures disclose today that Capitani won the title by only a 10-yard margin over Pence Dacus of Southwest Texas State.

Capitani gained 311 yards rushing and passed for 1,444 for a total of 1,755 yards in nine games. Dacus, a T-quarterback, picked up only 91 yards rushing, but made 1,654 through the air to total 1,745, also in nine games.

End Dick Beetsch of Iowa Teachers set the pace in pass receiving with 54 catches for 837 yards, bettering by one the previous small-college record of 53 set by Cliff Coggins of Mississippi Southern in 1949.

Bill Bradshaw of Bowling Green closed out his season with a 44.0-yard punting average for 50 punts to take over the lead in that department. He'll be watching from the sidelines as contenders attempt to beat his average. Ed Grosse of Lawrence is second with 42.8 and Norm Ellenberger of Butler third with 41.9.

Lift Curtain On Basketball Preps Today

Dixon Entertains Fulton; Oregon at Ashton in Openers

Six area coaches learn how much work they have to do this season when the lid comes off the 1953-54 basketball season tonight.

Here in Dixon, Coach Lon Scofield trots out his new edition of the Dukes against Fulton. This will be one of the tallest clubs ever coached by Scofield with a team that averages close to 6-1 and better than 6-2 for the first five.

Fulton, which also opens its season tonight, has four veterans back plus two tall juniors, T. Baldwin, 6-3, and R. Bennett, 6-4, up from the frosh-soph squad. The main-spring in the Steamer attack is expected to be Arnie Housenga, a 5-8 guard who scorched the nets for 26 points against Dixon last year and was the Fulton leading scorer last season.

Last year, Dixon won in the final second of play, 39-37.

In other area action, Ashton, with seven lettermen to bolster its basketball hopes, entertains Oregon. The Hawks have three returning veterans but will be strengthened by a strong junior group up from last season's frosh-soph squad.

Pawpaw, with an all veteran team, lifts the lid on its season by playing host to Lee Center, which dropped its opener Tuesday, 78-46. Both are members of the Green River Valley conference.

Franklin Grove and Steward both hit the road for their curtain raisers. The Wildcats travel to Chadwick while Steward moves east to Somanauk.

Franklin Grove has three lettermen back but lost its scoring punch of a year ago with the graduation of Lane McMillon.

Steward has two returning lettermen and a big rebuilding problem to face.

Three Way Tie Looms in Big 10

Illinois 14 Point Choice To Dump Northwestern

CHICAGO (AP)—A three-way tie for the Big Ten football title—the first such deadlock since 1931—looms Saturday among Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan State as the conference season ends.

Top ranked Notre Dame takes the first of its last three big steps toward an undefeated football season when it meets Iowa, always a tough foe for the Irish.

Southern California will have its hands full too, when it runs up against UCLA. The Uclans are bidding for Rose Bowl glory and need this one to be assured of at least a tie for the Pacific Coast Conference title. They could win it outright if California stops Stanford.

Maryland Favored

Maryland, a close second to Notre Dame in this week's Associated Press poll of the nation's top teams, finishes its season against Alabama. The Terrapins also are unbeaten, and figure to continue that way.

In the Southwest Conference where the Cotton Bowl host is still undetermined, the Rice Owls will try to stay in the picture with a victory over Texas Christian.

Oklahoma, already invited to the Orange Bowl ends its Big Seven season against Nebraska.

The big traditional game in the East pits Yale against Harvard at New Haven with Yale favored.

The three-way tie in Big Ten history was in 1931 when Northwestern, Michigan and Purdue

Mt. Morris Grade To Open Season

MT. MORRIS (Special)—The Mt. Morris Grade School Basketball team will play its first game of the season this Friday afternoon at Leaf River, at 3 p.m.

Dick Miller is the only returning regular from last year's squad. Coaches Dave Rahn and Ray Apple will build an entire new team for this year. Both teams, lightweights and heavyweights, have practiced the past two weeks.

Charges Dropped

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Stanford halfback Al Napoleon, charged in Honolulu with draft evasion, surrendered Thursday and was released immediately, to reappear in two weeks.

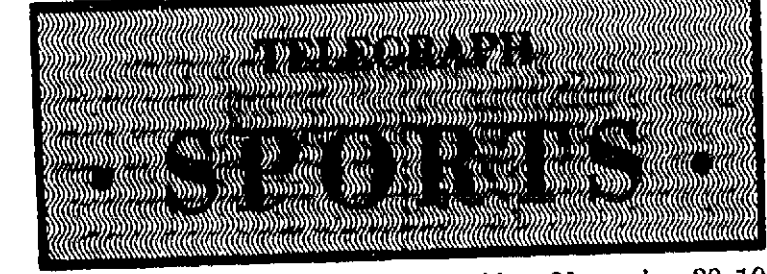

That enables Napoleon to appear in Saturday's California-Stanford game.

Chase Irish

In other conference games Saturday, Purdue (1-4) is a 3-point underdog at Indiana (1-4) and Ohio State (4-2) is favored by 7 at Michigan (2-3).

Notre Dame is rated a 14-point choice over Iowa, which has a 5 won, 3 lost record for the season. After the Hawkeyes, Notre Dame faces Southern California and Southern Methodist. Any one of the three might stop Frank Leahy's club and Iowa has a pesky habit of breaking Notre Dame winning streaks.

Back in 1921 Iowa stopped the Irish after they had gone 22 games without defeat. In 1939 Notre Dame won six, then lost to Iowa and the same thing happened in 1940.

Western Illinois Grabs 2nd In IAC, Drop Southern 47-19

MACOMB (AP)—Western Illinois nailed down second place in the Interstate Conference Thursday night by smothering Southern Illinois, 47-19.

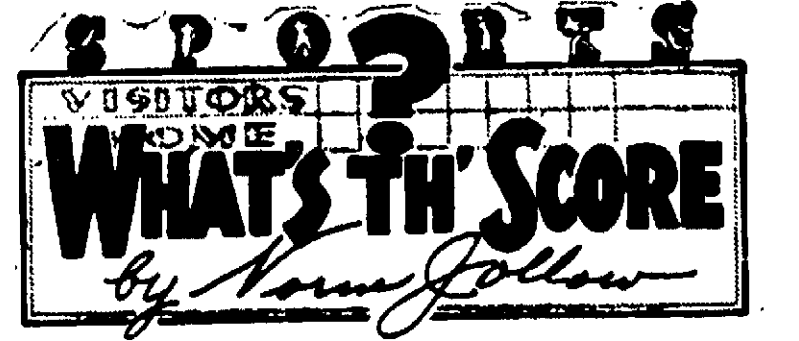

Western ended its league season with a 5-1-0 record to beat out Michigan Normal, with 4-1-1, for second place. Central Michigan won the title last week with 5-0-1.

Western rolled up a 34-6 halftime lead for its easy triumph over Southern. Quarterback Bill Vandermert led the winners by pitching touchdown passes of 47 and 40 yards. One of them was to Mike Reynolds, who also scored on a 28-yard run.

Ed Johnson returned a kickoff 85 yards to score for Southern and Joe Huske connected with Jack Schneider on an 85 yard pass play for another tally.

The IAC season closes Saturday with Northern Illinois at Eastern Illinois. Neither has won a league game in five starts.

NRA BASKETBALL: Minneapolis 107, Philadelphia 79. New York 96, Baltimore 53. Syracuse 79, Fort Wayne 76. Rochester 79, Milwaukee 69.

FOR WHAT IT IS WORTH, and after last week it doesn't seem to be worth much, here is this week's Big Ten selection sheet.

ILLINOIS OVER NORTHWESTERN—The Illini should be mad, but Northwestern hasn't won yet and seem to take great delight in spoiling Illinois' Rose Bowl hopes.

WISCONSIN OVER MINNESOTA—May be close since the Badgers may be down and the Gophers should be up after last week's happenings.

OHIO STATE OVER MICHIGAN—State needs the win to stay in the top bracket of the conference standings. Michigan just doesn't have it this year.

PURDUE OVER INDIANA—The Boilermakers have two and should make it three wins.

IOWA OVER NOTRE DAME—Don't ask me why, I don't know. Call it a hunch.

MICHIGAN STATE OVER MARQUETTE—The Spartans want that trip to the Rose Bowl and could use a big win to stack the case their way.

Last week's miserable 3-3 record was quite a blow to our pride, and it dropped the old average to .337.

THREE MORE NORTH CENTRAL ILLINOIS conference coaches have announced for Princeton as the team to beat in the coming basketball campaign. The latest are Bill Wilkinson at Rochelle, Gil Love at Ottawa and Lloyd Doernier at Mendota.

Love, incidentally, is complaining about a lack of height this season. He reports his tallest boy is 6-3.

LOVE AND DOERNIER CONSIDER DIXON as the next toughest in the conference on the basis of what has returned while Wilkinson looks for two tough ones from Sterling and Ottawa as well as Dixon.

DOERNIER ALSO EXPRESSED apprehension at what DeKalb Coach George Dertinger might come up with after the way the Barb mentor whipped his team into shape toward the end of last season for a trip to Champaign.

Wilkinson looks for his Hubs to finish in the middle of the pack right now.

A meeting of all men in Mt. Morris who are interested in playing in a commercial basketball league is set for Nov. 23, at 7:30 in the Community gym. A short practice session will be held after the meeting and prospective players are requested to bring along their own equipment.

TEAMS SLATED FOR THE OHIO HOLIDAY tournament. Dec. 28-30 include: Walnut, LaMoille, Tiskilwa, Manlius, Franklin Grove, Tampico, Mineral and Ohio.

California Cage Team Is Ready

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—This appears to be the year California's Golden Bears have been waiting for.

Benten in the Pacific Coast Conference basketball playoffs by Washington's senior-loaded huskies last year, the Bears will be seeking revenge.

Coach Nibs Price has three stars of the team which took the southern division title last year. They are the three Bobs — McKen, Matheny and Albo.

Oregon State's Beavers are the choice to replace Washington as champions of the northern division because of outstanding players coming up from their powerful freshman squad. Washington, after three straight championships, lost its entire starting five, led by the fabulous Bob Houbrges.

Rate Santa Clara

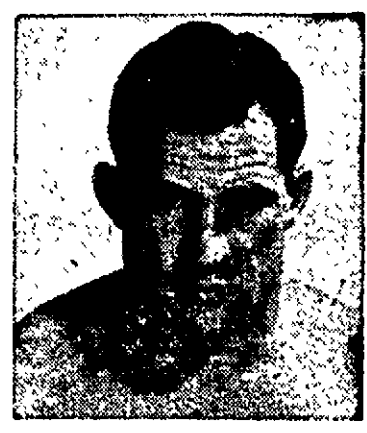

The best team in the Far West may be an unheard quintet — Santa Clara. The Broncos, who finished fourth in the collegiate playoffs last year, will have all American candidate Ken (6-9) Sears back as well as '53 starters Jint Young, Mickey Mount and Herb Schoenstein.

Seattle lost the colorful O'Brien twins but Coach Al Brightman isn't worried because he will have back Stan Glowaski, 6-5, and Wayne Aarford, 6-3. An impressive looking newcomer's Bob Godes, 6-8.

Rice Favored

Rice is the pick to dethrone Texas as Christian University for the Southwest Conference Championship. TCU, winners twice and tied for the championship once in the past three years, is the favorite. The Horned Frogs have height, speed and scoring power in return.

4 Spectators, Driver Killed In Pan-American Auto Race

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Death haunted the road today as 128 drivers prepared for the second lap of the Pan-American Road race, which so far has cost five lives.

The 1,812-mile drive from southern Mexico to the United States border began Thursday. Near Tehuantepec a Ford driven by Robert F. Christie of Grant's Pass, Ore., overturned on a curve. A crowd of spectators swarmed onto the highway and into the path of another Ford driven by Mickey Thompson of El Monte, Calif.

Before Thompson could stop, his car plowed into the throng, killing four of the spectators. Neither Thompson nor Christie was injured. Giuseppe Escosutti of Italy was killed when the Ferrari in which he was the co-driver overturned.

A Lancia driven by Felice Bonetto of Italy was first, covering the 330 miles from Tuxtla Gutierrez on the Guatemalan border to Oaxaca in 3 hours 28 minutes 14 seconds.

The best time among the modified Chrysler was 4:14:26, far down the line in 12th place. The driver was Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill.

Of the 177 cars which started, 49 dropped out for various reasons.

Employment In '52 Was Above 1951

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Department of Commerce study of regional employment showed today that almost all sections of the country employed more people in manufacturing during 1952 than in 1951. Only the east—south—central states reported a decline.

The study also covered the value added to goods by manufacturing processes.

The biggest 1952 growth—both in employment and value added in manufacturing—took place in the Pacific states, according to the Commerce Department.

The report included these comparisons, by regions of the country:

East North Central—the biggest manufacturing section of the nation according to its employment and value added figures. Manufacturing employment in 1952 totaled 4,706,000 and manufacturing processes added $35,412,000,000 to the goods handled. This represented gains over 1951 of 0.5 per cent in employment and of 5.6 per cent in value added by manufacturing.

The survey showed figures for Illinois 1,253,543; $9,309,363; 1,243,681, $8,835,548.

Average employees per year 1952 were 1,253,543; value added by manufacture in 1952 — $9,309,363; average employees per year 1951—1,243,681; value added by manufacture in 1951 — $8,835,548.

Woman Takes On Cabbie and Police Squad

CHICAGO (AP)—Take it from cabbie Frank Mayer, the woman pedestrian isn't in it with the woman pedestrian—at least one woman pedestrian—Mrs. Jeanie Fasano.

Mrs. Fasano started across State st. at Grand av. Thursday as the traffic light changed, and Mayer honked his horn to warn her, she said. Mrs. Fasano stopped in front of his cab and stayed there.

Fasano honked again. He shouldn't have done it. The wrathful 40-year-old woman moved to the driver's side window and pummeled Mayer. When the driver tried to close the window, she broke it.

By now a crowd had gathered, and Policeman George Goodin came over to break it up. Mrs. Fasano, whom Goodin termed a "one woman riot," lashed at him with her fists, her purse and her tongue.

A police squad came to the rescue and carted Mrs. Fasano to the station to cool off.

Mayer?

"My nerves are all unstrung," said the 67-year-old hack driver. "I'll have to rest a while before I go out with the cab again."

Wheaton Paper Will Resume Publication

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—A tentative agreement has been reached in the walkout of eight mechanical department employees of the Wheaton Daily Journal and publication will be resumed Monday, it was announced today.

Harry F. Smith, business manager of the Journal, said a tentative agreement had been reached between the management and Chicago Local 16 of the International Typographical Union. He said negotiations for a final settlement are continuing, but he declined to reveal details of the tentative settlement.

The union men walked out Nov. 9, demanding wages equal to those paid to members of the ITU in Chicago. The Chicago scale is $111 weekly for day work and $116.50 for night work for a 37½ hour week.

Smith said the wage rate at Wheaton at the time of the walkout was $23.35 hourly for a 40-hour week, or a rate of $94 weekly.

Indian Summer Was Feared By Pennsylvania Pioneers

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Enjoying the warm weather and bright sunny days of Indian summer? There was a time when residents in this farming area of southeastern Pennsylvania feared the onset of those mild, sunny periods in late fall.

Herb Krone, a veteran spokesman for the Groundhog Club, which annually predicts whether spring or more winter is due after Feb. 2, said he found an explanation in Baer's Farmer's Almanac for 1828.

The explanation went like this: "During the long-continued Indian wars the settlers enjoyed no peace except in the winter season, during which the Indians were unable to raid the settlement."

"It sometimes happened that after the apparent onset of winter the weather became warm. This was Indian summer because it gave the Indians an opportunity to make surprise raids on the settlements and wage destructive warfare."

"The melting of the snow in Indian summer chilled every heart."

Krone does research in these old almanacs and then forecasts long-range weather conditions from the material therein.

One of his recent prognostications was the accurate forecast of an uncommonly early winter storm in the first week of November that piled a foot of snow in the Lancaster area and throughout the East in general.

Chicago and its suburbs occupy an area about the size of the state of Rhode Island.

It's Difficult to Bring Spy Suspects Before Jury

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (U)—If Harry Dexter White were alive today the government would have as much trouble trying to prosecute him for spying as it has had with others.

Miss Elizabeth Bentley and Whitaker Chambers, admitted messengers for a Soviet spy ring in Washington, years ago named more than two score government employees as agents for Soviet espionage.

None Tried

Not one of the 37 named by Miss Bentley has been brought to trial on a charge of spying. None of those named by Chambers as having supplied him with information for Moscow could be tried now. A man accused of peacetime espionage must be tried within 10 years of the alleged crime or not at all.

One of those mentioned by Miss Bentley, William Remington, was found guilty of perjury in testimony he gave, denying Communist tie-ups. Alger Hiss, named as a spy by Chambers, was found guilty, too. Neither was tried for espionage.

Miss Bentley named White as one who supplied information during the war. She did not claim to have received documents from him directly, but she said she got them through others.

Must Have Witnesses

On a charge of deliberate espionage, the government must produce at least one witness against him, plus circumstantial or positive evidence, such as documents; it must prove his intent was to hurt the United States and to aid a foreign power; and it must prove the information he supplied a foreign power involved national defense.

Even if the government has enough circumstantial evidence against White to convict him, it couldn't be used under present law. The government not only couldn't use circumstantial evidence but it couldn't even use evidence it got through leads obtained by wiretapping.

If the government could get some of those named by Miss

Bentley to testify against the others, it might attempt a trial. While some of those pointed to by Miss Bentley declared their innocence, as White did, others refused to answer questions of congressional committees.

They cited the Constitution's Fifth Amendment, which says a person in a criminal case can't be compelled to give evidence against himself.

To overcome two main obstacles, Atty. Gen. Brownell asked Congress:

To pass a law permitting use of wiretaps; and another allowing the attorney general to force certain witnesses, whom he wishes to use against others, to testify after he has promised they themselves won't be prosecuted.

The government didn't encounter with Julius and Ethel Rosenberg the same problems. The Rosenbergs were convicted as atomic spies for Russia after the government produced documentary evidence and two key witnesses who testified against them.

Tailor birds, of India, do not have to be taught to sew. A young bird, reared without ever seeing its parents or a tailor bird's nest, follows the nest-building customs of its race.

Regency Rights Taken Over by Queen's Husband

LONDON (U)—The Duke of Edinburgh took over the regency rights of Princess Margaret today as amendments to the 1937 Regency Acts won final approval.

Queen Elizabeth II assented to the new legislation Thursday night shortly after its final passage by the House of Lords. The House of Commons had unanimously approved the bill 10 days ago.

Now, if the Queen dies or becomes incapacitated before her 5-year-old son Prince Charles is 18, her husband would become regent ahead of her sister.

In the succession to the throne, however, Princess Margaret still stands third in line, after Charles and his baby sister, Princess Anne.

The Parliament rushed passage of the bill so action would be completed before the Queen and the Duke leave on a Commonwealth tour. They are scheduled to depart Monday, going first to Bermuda.

GOT THEM OFF

Chassene, 16th century French jurist, made an eloquent plea in behalf of some rats accused of destroying the barley crop. And, when they were cited to appear in court, he said that they should be excused, since the presence of cats in the neighborhood made it unsafe for them to appear.

Horned toads squirt blood from their eyes, an ejection accompanied by a clicking noise intended to terrify their enemies.

SNOWY TRIP TO SCHOOL—In sharp contrast to the unseasonal warm and balmy weather over the eastern half of the country, galoshes and scarves were a must for these high school girls as the first major snow storm this season left five inches of snow at Denver, Colo. Mediterranean Area Struck by Freak Snowstorm

CAIRO, Egypt (U)—A freak snow and rain storm sweeping the eastern Mediterranean reportedly has caused at least 13 deaths and wrought destruction through the ancient lands along its shores.

Twelve persons were reported killed in Alexandria, Egypt's chief seaport, when heavy gales the past two days tumbled houses. In southern Lebanon, a farmer was killed when high winds blew him onto rocks.

Lebanese officials said at least 32 persons, including 17 girl goatherds, were missing as that Biblical land shivered under its fourth straight night of heavy rains and snows. Roads were blocked by snowdrifts.

Dispatches from Beirut, capital of Lebanon, said the storms also struck neighboring Jordan and Syria.

Rose Bowl at Stake in TV Game of Week

LOS ANGELES (U)—Striving for the Rose Bowl bid, the Bruins of UCLA are slight favorites over Southern California in their showdown game Saturday.

Besides more than 90,000 in Memorial Coliseum, the nation's television football fans can view NBC's "game of the week" starting at 3:30 p.m. CST.

UCLA, beaten only by Stanford in its eight games, must win to stay abreast of or pass Stanford in the bid for the bowl assignment against a Big Ten team New Year's day.

A victory by the Uclans, coupled with a Stanford triumph over California at Palo Alto, would give UCLA and the Indians identical records of 6-1-0. Stanford's one loss in the conference was to USC.

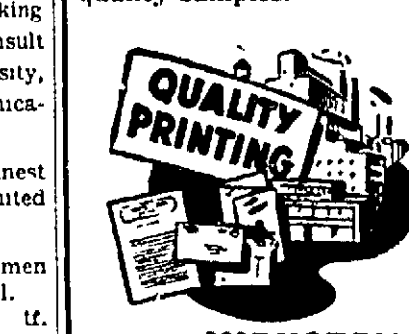

In the event of a tie, conference faculty representatives will select the coast's host bowl team this weekend.

KNOW YOUR HEART

Heart Murmurs, Flutters Need Not Mean Trouble

Thousands of persons have suffered needless alarm, even invalidism, through false belief that something is wrong with their hearts because they have symptoms such as palpitations or "flutters" that make them believe they have "heart trouble."

Such a condition was described as long ago as 1871 by Dr. Jacob Mendes DaCosta of Philadelphia, who had observed it in some 300 soldiers in the War Between the States. He called it "irritable heart." It has since been observed equally frequently among civilians.

In a typical case a young college professor persuaded himself he had a "bad heart" despite physicians' inability to find anything wrong with it. He gave up all sports, even the mild ones he particularly enjoyed.

Before long he found that even walking tired him, that climbing the stairs to his room made him breathless and dained him of strength. He would suffer spells of pain in the chest region. If his telephone rang unexpectedly, his heart would quicken its beat and he would feel so weak he could hardly answer its ring. If the ring were expected from someone to whom he didn't want to talk, he would feel so weak he couldn't answer it.

Within half a year, he went to seven heart specialists, none of whom could find evidence of anything organically wrong. He still felt that he was a "hopeless case" and that the doctors were refusing to tell him so in order to spare his feelings.

Finally, a doctor who was given the complete case history recognized his malady as "neurocirculatory asthenia"—an emotional illness, really disabling but rooted entirely in the imagination.

Being able to give the condition a definite name, and to describe similar cases to the patient enabled the doctor to convince him that his diagnosis was sound, that nothing was organically wrong, that it was all a by-product of fear. In less than a year a psychotherapist had him well on the road to recovery.

In two years he had resumed tennis playing.

Cases of this nature, however, have not always responded so well, largely through inability to convince the sufferer of the true source of his difficulty. The important factor in all such cases is to secure good medical opinion and place one's trust in one's physician.

This same counsel should be followed in considering heart murmurs. Many of them have no significance as far as the efficiency of the heart is concerned. A study has been made of 303 men who were accepted for Army service in 1943 after previously being rejected because of murmurs. After service averaging about two and a half years the former soldiers were re-examined in 1947.

Of these 303 cases, 289 showed no enlargement of the heart. Four of the men were disabled by heart disease. This was about the same percentage of heart disease found in similar groups of servicemen inducted without murmurs. Seven of the men had developed the type of emotional disease described above.

This, of course, is not intended to imply that all murmurs are harmless. Many of them are indicative of heart damage. But there is no point in needless worry about them. Learn the truth and learn to live with it.

OLD BUGGY, NEW TAX—Modern innovations like vehicle taxes must apply to buggies as well as new-fangled methods of transportation, the Indiana State Legislature has ruled. So hundreds of Amish residents of the state, such as this couple stopping at Berne, Ind., will pay a $15 tax, effective Jan. 1, 1954, for the right to keep their buggies on the road.
